By JOHN CODMAN ROPES.

The Story of the Civil War. A Concise Account of the War in the United States of America between 1861 and 1865. To be complete in four parts, printed in four octavo volumes, with comprehensive maps and battle plans. Bach part will be complete in itself and will be sold separately.

Part I.—Narrative of Events to the Opening of the Campaigns of 1862. With 5 maps. 8°, pp. xiv + 274.....$1.50

The most complete, comprehensive, and interesting account of the Civil War which has ever been published. We unhesitatingly recommend it as containing a wealth of information that no one can afford to be deprived of.—Home Journal.

Evening Leader*.

Part II.—The Campaigns of 1862. With 13 maps. 8°, pp. xii + 475.....$2.50

"Mr. Ropes evidently possesses that judicial type of mind so his work, when completed, will undoubtedly take rank among the standard histories of that great conflict."—New York Herald.

Parts III and IV.—To be completed by Col. W. R. Livermore, and are in active preparation.
